LUGGAGE DONATIONS FOR AREA FOSTER CHILDREN

Central’s Volunteer and Service Learning Center (VSLC) is asking for the community’s help to make their Love Luggage project for foster children a success. From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Aug. 6, VSLC representatives will accept donations of new and lightly used luggage under the portico at the main entrance of the Nigh University Center, located on the east side of the building.

The VSLC will clean, refurbish and paint the donated luggage. Central has partnered with the Oklahoma Department of Human Services to distribute the luggage to foster children throughout the state. The VSLC will continue to accept luggage donations for the Love Luggage project through Aug. 19, in Room 212 of Central’s NUC.

“Children in foster care often travel from home to home with their belongings in a trash bag,” said Brandt Smith, assistant director of Central’s VSLC. “At Central, we believe in using service learning to make a difference in our community, and through these donations, we can make a huge difference.”

The Love Luggage project is the focus of Central’s annual event, the Broncho Difference, giving the students, faculty and staff an opportunity to make a difference in the community. The event is a part of the university’s Stampede Week activities, celebrating the new school year and encouraging campus involvement. For more information about the Love Luggage project, contact Smith at (405) 974-2621 or bsmith101@uco.edu.
Partnerships Make Enrollment Happen at Central

It is hard to believe, but it is that time of year again. It is almost the beginning of the fall semester. With the arrival of that date also comes a group of new and continuing students anxious to continue their transformative learning experience and their degree at Central. This fall is no different, as we will potentially see another large enrollment. At present, we are slightly above enrollment numbers from this time last year, so we are hopeful that we will end up even or slightly above where we were last year for total enrollment.

Even though Enrollment Management provides the leadership on enrollment efforts in collaboration with the International Office and the Graduate College, our efforts would not be achieved without the partnerships that we have with you in making it happen. It’s the programs that the colleges provide during campus events for prospective students. It’s the beautification of the campus by our campus grounds department. It’s the referrals that you provide to friends and family. I can go on and on about your role in helping us to achieve our institutional enrollment goals, and for that we are thankful to you.

This year, we are going to be expanding campus partnerships that have existed for years with improved communication and structured planning. We have always attempted to determine when departments on campus are having events where pre-college prospects may be visiting Central. These events provide us with additional opportunities to recruit students. Just last week, the Department of Housing and Dining Services had hundreds of students on campus for the Student Life conference. Our staff was allowed an opportunity to talk about Central to these students. It is our hope to become more involved with these opportunities so that we can partner with you to help these students learn more about Central. I am sure that we can collaborate to determine what best fits with your program to achieve that goal.

Again, thanks for all that you do to ensure that Central is the institution of choice for our students, and thanks for providing them with a learning experience that will transform their lives.

CONVOCATION

Faculty and Staff members alike are anticipating the Fall 2011 Back to School Convocation scheduled for Tuesday, August 16 with new UCO President Don Betz. The event opens at 8:00 a.m. with a breakfast buffet on the third floor of the Nigh Center, sponsored by the UCO Alumni Association. The Alumni Association has sponsored the Convocation Breakfast for many years as their way of expressing appreciation to all UCO Faculty and Staff members. Convocation address and awards presentation will begin at 9:00 a.m.

There are thousands of people, animals and plants on our beautiful campus that need water every day to thrive. As the summer drought and triple-digit heat steal the water faster than the rains can replace it, water conservation has become mandatory. There are many ways UCO is managing our landscape to preserve our ecosystem and reduce energy needs.

A computer controlled irrigation system ensures we only use the right amount of water for irrigation purposes. The system can be controlled remotely and operates primarily at night to conserve water. UCO also mulches flowerbeds as much as possible to control undesired weeds and to reduce moisture evaporation.

Plants native to areas where water is limited and evaporation is high have evolved many adaptations to survive drought. Many of these can be seen in the gardens across campus. UCO Facilities Management (of which Sustainability is a part) strives to maintain the highest level of efficiency, productivity and conservation of our natural resources. To that end, we are constantly researching the latest technologies and techniques to make our campus a beautiful, healthy place to be!

Congratulations to us all for the recent awards received! The National Association of College and University Business Officers (NACUBO) recently honored the University of Central Oklahoma with its 2011 Innovation Award for the university’s success adopting “lean practices,” which has helped optimize financial and operational resources, saving the university approximately $400,000 annually. Also, The Chronicle of Higher Education named the University of Central Oklahoma as one of the “2011 Great Colleges to Work For.” The university ranks among the best nationally in three categories: supervisor or department chair relationship, professional/career development programs and work/life balance.

We recently learned that fellow co-worker, Carl Shortt in Motor Pool, has not only been skillfully involved with UCO biodiesel program, but also has an amazing artistic talent. You will understand why we are bragging on him and want to share this insight when you check out his website and see firsthand how his photography captures the beauty which surrounds us. Check out Carl’s website and be enchanted by the beauty of his photos. http://www.picturesbycarl.com/southwest.

Congratulations to Meagan (Branham) Carter and Jonathan Carter who recently exchanged wedding vows in Bartlesville, Oklahoma. Both the bride and groom graduated from the College of Education and Professional Studies. Meagan now works as UCO Freshman Academic Advisor, and Jonathan is putting his BA in Psychology to good use at Northcare, an outpatient behavioral health center providing services to children, families and adults in communities throughout Oklahoma.
