UCOLA stands for the University of Central Oklahoma Leadership Academy. Most leadership events are directed towards sophomores, juniors, and seniors in high school. However, UCOLA was created as a tool to start implementing leadership into high school freshmen. Usually, events like this are held off until students are older, but UCO sees the need to invest in students early. UCOLA is a full day event that serves two main purposes; 1) to equip students with leadership skills and 2) to encourage high school leaders to choose UCO. As a student facilitator, your job is to lead your group in ice breakers, leadership workshops, and games throughout the day. I hope as a current student at Central you understand the importance of this event and the value of educating young leaders.

Classification: □ Freshman □ Sophomore □ Junior □ Senior

Were you a student facilitator last year? □ Yes □ No

If so, what did you gain from the experience and why are you doing it again:

What trainings or other leadership experiences qualify you to lead these students?

What ice breaker, leadership workshop, or game would you choose to do with your group? Why?
What unique quality can you bring to UCOLA to improve the overall experience for the freshmen?

How would you describe your leadership style?

Please give any additional reasons why we should choose you to be a UCOLA Student Facilitator:
