Tuition waivers are awarded to students who demonstrate a consistent record of excellence. This is your opportunity to highlight what areas you have excelled in. Consider including relevant extra-curricular activities, leadership positions, etc., to convince the reviewers of your passion for design and pursuance of other interests. Statements regarding your childhood interests in art are not relevant for this application. Reviewers also award tuition waivers to candidates that discuss financial adversity. Please realize that the majority of design students work at multiple jobs and find design supplies expensive. Applications with spelling and grammatical errors will not be considered.
